This subject attempts to provide a complete and comprehensive overview of literature for children in English, from its early representations to the latest creations in the 21st century. Throughout the course the students will learn about the origins and development of what is understood nowadays as Children's Literature. In order to do so, they will read passages from well-known canonical texts and more contemporary ones. Especial emphasis will be paid to literary commentary on texts.

The purpose of the course is to familiarize students with the history and current state of the literature produced for children, in order to stimulate their critical perspective on this kind of literature and to provide them with those analytical tools that shall enable them to choose books for children professionally.

Requirements

In order to follow, enjoy and profit from this course students must be aware of two basic concepts:

1. This course will be conducted in English.
2. Students will be required to read texts.

Syllabus

Essential

Students are expected to possess a reasonable level of the English language, meaning that they should be able to follow a lesson in English and read literary texts. Moreover, students shall be encouraged to participate in academic oral discussions in English.

Recommended

It is recommended, although not necessary, that the students who enrol in this course do readings in English regularly.

Skills

Specific

- * * C20. Ability to understand, interpret and analyse academic documents related to the students' field of study. * C22. Ability to find and manage information related to the discipline in online databases, and to use software applications related to the field.
- * Knowledge of the didactics of the English language, culture and literature.

Generic

- * * CG3 Ability to communicate in English. * CG1 Teamwork skills development. * CG6 (CB4) Ability to communicate information, ideas, problems, and solutions to an audience, both specialised and non-specialised.
- * Capacity to relate and integrate ideas and information from different sources and disciplines, as well as to apply them in practice.
- * Self-critical attitude fostering the student's concern for quality and continuous improvement.

Basic

- * You may consult the basic competencies students will have to achieve by the end of the degree at the following address: <http://www.uib.eu/study/grau/Basic-Competences-In-Bachelors-Degree-Studies/>

Syllabus

Specific risks and protective measures

The learning activities of this course do not entail specific health or safety risks for the students and therefore no special protective measures are needed.

Student learning assessment

Students will be evaluated throughout different tasks:

1. Forum debates (10%)
- 2.- Individual on-line writings -literary commentaries- (40%)
3. Final exam (50%)

The final test must be passed with a 5 for the student to get a pass in the subject. If not passed, the rest of their grades will not be taken into account, even if the average score is a PASS (5 or higher). In this case, the student will have a 4.5 in their record.

Please note: mistakes in the use of correct English in any of the academic activities will be negatively reflected in the final mark.

Frau en elements d'avaluació

In accordance with article 33 of Regulation of academic studies, "regardless of the disciplinary procedure that may be followed against the offending student, the demonstrably fraudulent performance of any of the evaluation elements included in the teaching guides of the subjects will lead, at the discretion of the teacher, a undervaluation in the qualification that may involve the qualification of "suspense 0" in the annual evaluation of the subject".
